ASKS REBUKE FOR CARTER

A. M. Brown Admits That He is Fighting the Administration.

"On the morrow I ask you to cast your ballots for me as a rebuke to Governor George R. Carter, and a glorious vindication."

In those words, in the presence of three thousand people of all politics, in Palace Square last night, Arthur M. Brown admitted more than all that has been claimed by his opponents in the assertion that his election meant a blow at the administration and the head of the Republican party in the Territory. It was the biggest meeting of the campaign, from a numerical standpoint. Of course, there were many women and children among these, but there were many more voters. But the enthusiasm was not nearly so big as the crowd.

The cheering, in fact, seemed to be confined to a rather limited circle in front of the speaker's stand, but the band was there, and the small boys shouted, and there was a rocket or a Roman candle let off now and again, and it all helped.

NOT THE FIRST SPEAKER.

Clarence Crabbe presided at the meeting, and A. M. Brown was not the first speaker. But his speech was far the most significant. He told, at first, about his nomination by the Republican convention, and then, turning his attention to Governor Carter, he said: "I was placed on that ticket by a regularly constituted convention of the Republican party. I leave it to you, gentlemen, has George R. Carter, the Governor of this Territory and the head of the Republican party in Hawaii, any right to oppose me, the nominee of a Republican convention. Is it right, is it square, is it just, for the Governor to single me out for attack in the way that he has done? You all know what a bitter fight has been made against me. I say that George R. Carter has no right to oppose any candidate on the Republican ticket. That it is not his business to do that. And I ask you, on the morrow, to cast your ballots for me as a rebuke to George R. Carter and a glorious vindication. I ask you on the morrow to cast your ballots for the straight ticket as a rebuke to the Civic Federation and a glorious vindication for the whole ticket."

W. O. SMITH SPEAKS.

The first speaker of the evening was D. Kalauokalani Jr., candidate for county clerk, who delivered a short address in Hawaiian. He was followed by W. O. Smith, who got a round of applause when he was introduced. "I believe that it is a duty we owe to the community to support the men who have been nominated by the Republican convention," said Mr. Smith. "This has been a very bitter campaign. Some things have been said that had better, perhaps, have been left unsaid. But in spite of all that has been said, I believe that we can trust the men who have been nominated by the Republican convention. We have done our duty by them in choosing them as our representatives, and I believe that they will do their duty by us in faithfully discharging the trust that we will repose in them.

"And they had better be faithful. I warn them that every move will be watched, and that no man who is unfaithful to his trust will be spared. But I do not believe that any will prove unfaithful. And I think this experiment of county government which we are about to make, and which we all hope to see successful and want to see successful, will have a better chance of success if its initiation is entrusted to the nominees on the straight Republican ticket."

ENTHUSIASM FOR HENRY

Call for Workers Brings Big Crowd to His Headquarters.

Forty men from the Fourth District were asked by the Civic Federation to meet last night at Sheriff Henry's headquarters on Merchant street to receive instructions regarding their duties as ballot-booth watchers today, and two hundred and fifty responded. This unexpectedly large crowd of men filled the room to the doors until it overflowed upon the sidewalk.

The meeting was enthusiastic in more ways than one, for it was originally intended only to impart the duties to the four men from each precinct, but hardly had these been given, than the crowd yelled for Sheriff Henry to make a speech. It was a rattling good talk that the Sheriff made and was punctuated throughout by applause. He said it was not his original intention to run for office, but he had been urged so much that he finally thought it his duty to do so. He believed the people would vote and fight for him. If elected, the Sheriff said he would endeavor to keep the town morally clean and protect the homes of all classes of citizens impartially. He was certain that in his conduct of the police department he would be in entire harmony with the Territorial executive.

Senator Achi dropped in and gave a straightforward talk. He was followed by Joe Fern, who had been sent for at the request of men in the audience, and he was received with cheers. Several Hawaiians gave enthusiastic talks for Sheriff Henry. One from Waikeiki, who came up to the front of his own accord, said he was a man who worked every day but he took too great interest in gambling, and when Brown was sheriff he gambled all his money away. "Now, I have not gambled since Mr. Henry came into office," said he, "for he closed up the places I visited."

There was a good representation of white people in the crowd.

POEPOE TALKS TO THE FUSIONISTS

There was something of a sensation at the Democratic-Home Rule rally at Aala Park last night when J. M. Poepeo, candidate for sheriff, stated that he had been offered $1500 for his votes by the Republicans. This statement was made in the course of his remarks in the native language. Later during his English address he stated that he had nothing to say against Brown, who was a friend of his, or against High Sheriff Henry. He wanted to go into no personalities. He did not favor Carter and would like to see the administration fall to be endorsed at the polls but not on account of the Carter-Brown fight, only because the administration was Republican and he was running on a Democratic-Home Rule ticket. Poepeo criticised the condition of affairs under Brown in his Hawaiian speech and praised Henry for his attitude toward the Iwilei question, saying that he believed that Henry was trying his best to better conditions. God did not like a wide open town, he said.

Poepeo made an especial appeal to his own race to support him and made the usual promises in regard to the liberal distribution of patronage. He said that the position that he had often taken that there were more than two parties in the United States, had been vindicated. Republicans had said that there was no use having a Home Rule party as there should be but two parties. The Civic Federation had proved that there might be more than two. The candidate stated that he stood for the uplifting of the Hawaiian people, something that would be the salvation of the country. Kalauokalani (Continued on page 5.)

THE GIST OF IT.

BY DOREMUS SCUDDER, D. D.

An everyday voter wanting light puts the three following questions:

1.—Why did not the Civic Federation begin sooner? Was its duty not at the primaries?

No, it was not. Civic Federations are not political parties. They have no place at primaries. Parties are national affairs. Civic Federations as their name implies are associations of good citizens of all parties and no party for local good government. They act always after the parties have made their nominations. In fact the Civic Federation idea has proved the most effective club for knocking out bad nominees and for preventing the naming of unworthy candidates in local elections that freedom loving peoples have yet devised. If you vote for the Civic Federation endorsees and elect them, you will see all parties consumed hereafter with the ambition to put up men who can secure the endorsement of the Federation. That has been Chicago's experience and it will be Honolulu's. If today's vote should result in the defeat of the men endorsed by the Federation, it will matter little. In time Honolulu will catch on as Chicago has done and good citizens will learn how easy it is to get good local government through the Civic Federation plan. Do not be deceived by the cry "If only the Federation had acted earlier all would have been well." It was not a moment behind time.

2.—Will not my vote tend to disrupt the Republican party if I vote for those endorsed by the Federation?

Nothing so disrupts a party as to elect unworthy men. The choice of a good man always strengthens a party. That this must prove true in today's election is clear to the blindest politician. If Brown be elected the Republican party will have received a wound that years cannot heal. If Henry be chosen, a staunch Republican will be continued in office, a clean administration will have been vindicated and the Republican party will be relieved of an incubus, the retention of which menaces it with disaster. It will be close ranks, bury the hatchet and a strong united Republicanism if Henry be chosen.

3.—I am a small property owner, just a quiet ordinary citizen. Why should I vote for the Federation men?

You own your home as a fruit of years of economy. You want the protection of the law. Do you recall how the police acted in the Jones murder? Prompt action might have saved two lives. A business man in Honolulu is authority for the statement that his place being menaced by a burglar, he telephoned the then sheriff for an officer. The man appeared in one hour and a half. Mark the gamblers, who are they for in this election? Have you noted how the saloons are placarded with a single name for sheriff regardless of party? Business men whose premises were disturbed by gambling dens asked relief from Brown and did not get it. That you know is impossible with Henry. A man who wants protection for his home will not hesitate which of the two to choose. Work it out with all the candidates. You want supervisors and a treasurer with whom your hard earned taxes are safe. What does a party name count for in comparison with the security of your home and its freedom from fear of extravagant taxation?

ESTIMATES OF BOTH SIDES

The Indications Grow Stronger That Henry Will Be a Winner.

The tide of Henry's strength still rises. It will sweep over Oahu today, and when the polls close he will have been chosen Sheriff. One man working for Brown admitted last night that his man was beaten to a standstill. The Brown workers yesterday tried to work the old Home Rule scare by asserting that Poepeo would win. It will not work. The people are not to be so easily fooled. Brown is beaten, and William Henry will be elected.

Figures given out at the headquarters of the Civic Federation estimate that a total of about 5500 votes will be cast at the polls today. This estimate agrees with the figures given out by the Republican managers. It is upon the division of the vote that the figures of the managers differ widely. At Civic Federation headquarters it was said that Henry would get 2900 votes, and that the balance would be divided between Poepeo and Brown, with the Fusionist leading. The Republican estimate, printed last night, gave Brown 2850 of the total of 5500 votes, Poepeo 2100 and Henry 550. And that is simply absurd. The Fusionists, of course, claimed the election of their ticket.

At Civic Federation headquarters the claim was likewise made that Trent would beat Booth for Treasurer, and that Fern would beat Quinn for Supervisor. Not the slightest fear was expressed of the defeat of George W. Smith because of the fact that a fight had been made against Quinn. Smith is sure of the support of the better element of the community, and Quinn has lost the same element through the Civic Federation fight upon him. In other words, Smith will get the straight Republican vote, native and other, and Quinn will not. And that will beat Quinn.

HE PROVED CITIZENSHIP

Odd Ending of the Trial of a Deserting Sailor.

For he might have been a Chin, Or he might have been a Jap, Or he might have been a Roosh-Ian; But—a lucky dog you'll think— When he reached the final lap He came out a real Amer-I-can.

Such was P. Chandler, a sailor who arrived here as one of the crew of the British bark Drumcraig. At Sydney he was entered on the vessel's articles as a subject of Edward VII. At Honolulu he deserted the Drumcraig and H. B. M.'s Consul R. de B. Lazard reported him to the Federal authorities. Then there was a double reason for arresting Chandler. For one thing, the United States owed it to Great Britain under treaty arrangements to return the deserting sailor to his vessel. In the next place, the deserter was on American soil in violation of the United States immigration laws. So it all seemed.

Chandler was pursued to Kaaanapali, Maui, whither he had fitted in the American bark Kaulani, and being apprehended at that port was brought back to Honolulu at the expense of the United States. His examination was set for yesterday afternoon and Commissioner Mailing opened his court to take evidence for the committal or otherwise of the alleged culprit.

The proceedings had not gone far when Chandler coolly pulled from his pocket a duly authenticated naturalization certificate showing that he was a full-fledged, E Pluribus Unum citizen of the United States of America. Commissioner Mailing was not quite so appalled as Saint-Paul's judge when the great apostle sprang his Roman citizenship on the court. Nevertheless he had no discretion but to tell Chandler to go and play Briton no more.

Lord & Belser's dredge Governor is receiving its machinery, which arrived in the steamer Sonoma, and will be ready for service in about ten days.

The members of the Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 1, U. S. W. V., will give a smoker tomorrow evening. Invitations can be had from any of the members.

A HORSE AND HACK FELL DOWN PUNCHBOWL

A horse and hack hurtling down the steep declivity that forms the front wall of Punchbowl was the sight that startled people living on Prospect street late yesterday afternoon. The hack, which was numbered 103, was driven by a Japanese wearing badge No. 19, and contained one passenger, also a Japanese. It was standing on the road that runs around the front portion of the summit rim of the crater, when for some inexplicable reason the horse began to kick. In a few seconds it had gone over the edge, dragging the hack after it. The occupants of the vehicle, luckily, had time to scramble out before the rig went over. The horse, once on the steep incline, held back with all its strength, but the heavy hack pressed him on. Vainly he tried to stop by running into a small algaroba tree that clings to the side of the hill.

For a moment it seemed as if the hack was stopped, but the slender tree gave way and with a crash the outfit went down the cliff. End over end the horse and hack went, bouncing from rock to rock, first the horse on top and then the carriage. The spectators looked on in horror, not knowing whether there was anyone in the vehicle or not. A little over half way down the hack became wedged in a narrow gully.

Gabriel Thornton, a Hawaiian boy, was the first to reach the wreck, and he was closely followed by a squad of laborers who were working on the gas main on Prospect street. The hack was found to be almost a total wreck and the horse, almost by a miracle, was still alive and able to walk, although he was terribly cut and bruised. The Japanese hackdriver did not seem to worry so much about his horse as he did about his hack, leaving the spectators to care for the animal.
